

DOWN WITH CZARISM

Fiery Speeches on Anniversary of Duma's Birth.

TERRORISTS TURN ROBBERS

Steal 25,000 Rubles, Later Are Caught and Some Will Die—Horrible Story of Torture of a Condemned Polish Socialist Published by Berlin Organ. He Was Finally Put to Death.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 29.—A revolutionary demonstration was made Monday night by 400 university students, the occasion being the anniversary of the Czar's proclamation establishing the Duma.

Fiery speeches were made, in which the speakers declared war to the knife against Czarism. The gathering dispersed singing the "Marseillaise." In anticipation of trouble in various parts of the empire on celebration of the day, troops were concentrated at all danger points, to be prepared to put down disturbances. There had been threats that revolutionists would attempt demonstrations against the government on the occasion of this anniversary, and the authorities did not intend to take any chances.

The garrisons at all the larger cities were reinforced and the orders to the troops instructed them to fire in case of trouble.

Steal 25,000 Rubles.

A party of revolutionists, numbering twenty, Saturday held up a convoy of three vehicles en route to Kazan and secured 25,000 rubles. The revolutionists attacked the escort, demanding a surrender. The driver of the leading vehicle discarded the demand and, whipping up his horses, succeeded in escaping. A fierce fight then ensued between the robbers on one side and the drivers and their escort on the other. The robbers finally overpowered their adversaries and securing the money disappeared. Later it was learned that thirty-two persons comprised the band of terrorists. All of them have been arrested except the woman who received the notes and gold. Four who were taken red-handed were tried to-day at the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul and sentenced to be hanged. The sentence will be executed to-morrow. The leader of the band, a Jew of the name of Rosenberg, is not among the condemned. A woman who escaped was his confidential friend.

Horribly Tortured.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—Tortures which mock the boasted horror of the dark ages were inflicted upon Joseph Duda, a condemned Polish socialist, by the police of Kielce, Russian Poland, according to charges printed to-day by the local organ of the Polish socialist party. Duda killed a former socialist, who turned police spy, and was sentenced to be hanged.

For forty-eight hours before he was executed, Duda, it is claimed, was subjected to horrible tortures by the police.

Strips of skin were torn from his arms and legs and red-hot irons were applied in a spirit of wanton cruelty. Wadding was inserted in his wounds, and then set on fire to add to his torture. Long tacks were also driven under his finger nails and then hot sealing wax was poured into these holes and left to harden.

After the police had exhausted every means of torture their ingenuity could devise, Duda was executed.

DEFENDS CANNED MEAT.

British Scientist Warns the Public

Against Greater Danger in Food.

London, Oct. 29.—Sir Frederick Trevelyan, addressing the National Health Society to-day, ridiculed the recent outcry against canned meats, while, he said, virtually everybody is indifferent to the far greater danger in food and milk laden with death-dealing germs.

The public, said he, does not seem to mind swallowing anything it can not see. Milk and meat, and now insensitively supplied, swarm with bacilli of typhoid and other diseases, but as they are invisible the public does not care. Canned meats which contain floor sweepings and other filth are harmless, he declared, because they are cooked and probably were healthy before cooked.

People, he added, are straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel. The present treatment of meat before it is eaten is not in the least more sanitary than it was in the days of the neolithic cave-dwellers.

VON BUELOW UNFIT FOR DUTY

Germany's Imperial Chancellor Continues in Poor Health.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—Little reliance is placed upon the optimistic reports as to the physical condition of the imperial chancellor. Over since his breakdown in the Reichstag, nearly six months ago, Prince von Buelow has been residing at Nordney, and his friends and medical advisers alike admit that he is not in a fit state to cope with the duties of his office as of yet.

There is a great array of work in all departments as a consequence of the settlement of many questions having been deferred until the chancellor's probable return. But it is now seen that this will have to be dealt with by the secretary for foreign affairs and other ministers.

Although the prince will be in his place as usual in the Reichstag during the coming session, he is not expected to take much part in debate his physicians having warned him against doing so.

HUNGARIANS REJOICE.

The Return of Rakoczy's Remains

Creates Patriotic Effervescence.

Buda-Pesth, Oct. 29.—The high-water mark of Hungarian patriotism in recent years was reached to-day when the bones of the hero, Prince Rakoczy, were brought home. The passage of the funeral train was marked by ovation after ovation. The procession in the streets of Buda-Pesth took place in brilliant weather, and was witnessed by 20,000 people, many of whom were gorgeous costumes.

The entire Hungarian nobility were present, and 400 members of the government marched in the procession. The night and the magnificent illumination at night were viewed by Emperor Francis Joseph's family.

The complete success of the day in Buda-Pesth was marred by the striking train and underground road employees. Policemen, firemen, and in some instances, passengers were injured and cars overturned.

Kaiser Honors King's Brother.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—Emperor William has created the Duke of Connaught a field marshal of the Prussian army, an honor that is rarely conferred on foreigners.

MRS. EDDY TO APPEAR

stores and on the windy street corners and discussed, what they term the "base slanders."

That is the attitude the cautious Yankee, so far as a goodly percentage of them is concerned, they care but little for Mrs. Eddy. They respect her, of course, but she is an intangible quantity at the best, and their chief interest is the fact that her presence in the city brings a flood of curious sightseers, who are "good spenders," and who leave large sums of money behind them, which helped to keep up the town. Therefore they all declare the stories that the distinguished priestess of the Christian Science cult is at the brink of death, and has not appeared personally in public for years, is a base fabrication. And it may be, but it has not yet been so proven.

Calvin A. Frye, Mrs. Eddy's footman-secretary, and the man said to be the real power behind the throne of the empire of Christian Science, was not to be seen to-day, but gave out a statement in which he repudiated the charges that he is using Mrs. Eddy as a tool, denied that she is not in the best of health and mind; branded as a lie the statements that Mrs. Farnelia J. Leonard had been conspiring with Eddy in the daily carriage rides; and that a Boston cancer doctor has been paying weekly visits to the Eddy home to attend the aged lady.

Scientists Not Greatly Disturbed.

New York, Oct. 29.—Christian Scientists in this city to-day declared they did not expect Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy to live longer than thirty days. Eddy is believed by the report that she was all but dead from cancer and that she was being impersonated by Mrs. Farnelia J. Leonard, a Brooklyn Scientist.

The interest in whether Mrs. Eddy, the founder of Christian Science, lives or dies, originated, they explained, in the popular conception that she must show actual physical immortality to justify her theories as to the superiority of the spirit over matter, and the possibility of the mind triumphing over disease and death.

Christian Scientists stated to-day that Mrs. Eddy did not claim immortality. She has written that in her judgment the faithful and entire fulfillment of her teachings will extinguish death, but has added that for herself she "cannot say." Some of the Scientists, when questioned as to their belief in Mrs. Eddy's power to defeat death, explained their understanding of the matter thus:

"We can only wait and see. We do not state our belief one way or the other. Everything is not clear to us. Christian Science is a growing belief, and as we grow so our confidence grows."

R. P. Verill, of the First Christian Science Church, at Ninety-sixth street and Central Park, said to-day that New York Scientists were satisfied that the newspaper story of Mrs. Eddy's physical condition, the impersonation of Mrs. Leonard, and that Calvin Frye, formerly Mrs. Eddy's footman and later secretary and spokesman, was the real head of Christian Science, and the recipient of Mrs. Eddy's income of $1,000,000 a year, were disproved.

Court this morning on a man charged with selling catarrh powder alleged to be a small percentage of cocaine. At

for the defendant, noted an appeal, and

the case will be heard in the corporation court. Mr. Diemelt took the stand, and the fact that the remedy contained cocaine.

He asserted that as soon as the nature of the preparation had been called to his

Washington Chief Thanked.

A letter expressing the thanks of the Alexandria board of fire wardens for the assistance rendered by Chief Bell and Mr.

Robinson, of the Washington fire department, in the purchase of a steam engine for the local department has been sent to

Chief Bell by A. A. Downham, secretary of the board. It is stated that the new machine is equal to any of its class in the country, and that it would have been a great help to the board to have known of its qualities without the benefit of Chief Bell in such matters.

The remains of Isador Brown, who committed suicide at Lebanon, Pa., were inetry in this city. Funeral services were held at 11 o'clock at the residence of his niece, Mrs. Charles Bendheim, 32 Prince street. Rabbi Stern, of Washington, confirmed, and the pallbearers were Messrs.

Louis Elshberg, Isaac Scheraga, H. W. N.

and by a delegation from George Mason Council, Royal Arcanum, of which

Mr. Brown was a member.

Argument will be heard to-morrow morning before Judge Bailey, in the Corporation Court, on a motion for a new trial in the case of Howard Banks, colored, who was recently found guilty of having murdered a negro named Thomas Elsey. Unless the motion is granted, the prisoner will probably be sentenced to hang, as the verdict was murder in the first degree. Attorneys Machen and Mc-

Nulty will make argument for the prisoner.

WASHINGTON HERALD BUREAU.

(Bell Telephone 115.)

Corner of Prince and Bond streets.

Alexandria, Va., Oct. 29.—Joseph

Thomas, colored, alias John Wright, who was recently turned over to the Alexandria County authorities by Chief Justice

Clabaugh, in the District Supreme Court, on a requisition from the governor of Virginia, will be placed on trial Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, in the Alexandria County Circuit Court on the charge of attempting to attack Miss Mabel Risley, now Mrs. Gooding, near Luna

Park, several weeks ago. The principal witnesses for the prosecution will be Mrs.

Gooding and her husband, Forrest Gooding, who was her companion the evening of the attack. Both have declared that their identification of the man as being their assailant was complete.

The principal effort of the defense, it is stated, will be to prove an alibi.

Thomas is also under indictment for the murder of Jackson Boney, colored, and for other offenses.

It had been feared that an effort might be made to lynch Thomas after he was placed in jail here, but since the lynch mob has no indication of any trouble of this kind.

Johnson Still at Large.

Nothing had materialized up to a late hour to-night, so far as was known at the police station, in the effort of the local authorities to follow up what was thought to be an important clue concerning the whereabouts of William Johnson, the negro who murdered Charles T. Smith, on October 26. It was learned this evening that the police department still at work on this particular line of investigation, the success or failure of which will probably be known in a short time.

It is understood that some information has been obtained which may throw light upon the movements of Frank Robinson, the negro who was the companion of Johnson the night of the murder, and who is wanted on the charge of complicity in the crime.

Strike-breakers Go Home.

The local situation in the strike of machineists on the Southern Railroad remains about the same as in the past week. The union men continue to disburse most of the money going to work. Fourteen mechanics arrived in Alexandria this morning from Philadelphia for the purpose, it is said, of preparing several new locomotives for service. They were communicated with by the local strikers, and after being informed of conditions, declined to go to work. Later they left for Philadelphia. Ten of the sixty large-class freight engines recently purchased by the company are now waiting in the yard here for adjustment of before they are ready for service.

Heavily Fined for Idleness.

Two cases consequent upon the movement started by the police to disarm idle negroes who gather in certain streets throughout the city were heard before

Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning, and each a fine of $50 was imposed. A negro who gave his name as Ellis West was one of the defendants.

It was testified that he had been discovered with a pair of iron knuckles in his pocket. The other was Robert Whitout, who was apprehended, it was testified, with a large, antiquated, but dangerous-looking revolver on his person.

Six negroes, charged with gambling, who were rounded up Saturday night by

Chief Goods and Officers Jones, Knight,

Nicholson, and Young, were called in the Police Court this morning. Five failed to answer and forfeited $50 collateral each, and the other was fined that amount.

Sold Cocaine in Medicine.

A fine of $75 was imposed in the Police Court this morning on J. A. Diemelt, a King street druggist, on the charge of selling catarrh powder alleged to be

torney Gardner E. Booth, who appeared for the defendant, noted an appeal, and

court. Mr. Diemelt took the stand, and stated that the powder in question was in packages which bore no indication of while Commonwealth Attorney Samuel G. Brent and Attorney R. D. Brumback will appear for the prosecution.

It is stated that the Masonic lodges of Petersburg made extensive preparations for the entertainment to-night in Masonic Hall in honor of the visit of Grand Master Kemper, of this city. The occasion marked the 13th anniversary of the granting of a charter to Petersburg Lodge No. 15.

Special vesper services, under the auspices of Petersburg Council No. 439, Knights of Columbus, will be held next Sunday evening in St. Mary's Catholic Church. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Father Doyle, of Washington.
